Curriculum

Curriculum at Casgala is based on the British Early years Foundation stage (EYFS) using the Reggio Emilia approach which gives children the opportunity to explore and inquiry for themselves. We value children's voices and interest deeply. Here's how the two can be blended to enhance early years education.

Through this holistic and responsive approach, we support the development of the whole child socially, emotionally, physically, and intellectually preparing them not just for school, but for life.

The 7 areas of learning in EYFS

At our nursery and kindergarten, we believe that young children learn best through active hands-on discovery and collaborative play. Our curriculum is designed to nurture natural curiosity, creativity, and critical thinking, laying the groundwork for lifelong learning. Our experienced teaching team carefully curates enabling experiences and provocations that encourage exploration, experimentation, and problem-solving always aligned with age-appropriate developmental milestones.

Additionally, at Casgala we provided a Montessori classroom for nursery and kindergarten is a thoughtfully prepared environment designed to support independent learning, freedom within limits, and hands-on exploration. It's based on the philosophy of Dr. Maria Montessori, an Italian physician and educator." At Casgala's Montessori classroom, where the environment is purposefully prepared with child-sized furniture, thoughtfully arranged learning materials and a warm, spacious compound, children are supported in developing confidence, independence and joy in learning.

Curriculum

Curriculum at Casgala is based on the British Early years Foundation stage (EYFS) using the Reggio Emilia approach which gives children the opportunity to explore and inquiry for themselves. We value children's voices and interest deeply. Here's how the two can be blended to enhance early years education.

Qualified Native English Teachers

Our qualified native English teachers are certified professionals with international teaching experience, specialize in early-childhood education and understand child development at each stage.

Small class size

At Casgala, we accept a maximum of 12 students per class, the ratio is 1:4. There will be 1 homeroom teacher and 2 teachers assistance. We do believe in small class sizes that students can perform better as they are more likely to engage in activities. Teachers can focus more on each student's needs and have stronger teacher-student relationships.

Purposefully designed furniture & facilities for children

At our school, learning goes beyond the curriculum. We thoughtfully design our physical spaces and create our own brand of child-sized furniture, "Willa Woodland," to support comfort, safety, and independence. Purposeful furniture and facilities play a key role in nurturing children's physical, emotional, and creative development, helping them feel valued, capable, and inspired.

Nurturing a Sense of Individuality and Self-Worth in children

At Casgala, We make children feel valued for who they are and recognize their strengths, independence and develop self-esteem. We avoid comparison between children; instead, highlight progress and effort. Provide opportunities for children to share their thoughts and respect their opinion. We encourage children to build strong self-worth as they tend to face challenges in life.

International community fostering global friendships among children

We encourage children to be global citizens as they can see themselves as part of the global community and contributing positively to the world. Different nationalities and different backgrounds foster new ways of thinking, collaborating and problem-solving.

by Willa Woodland

Our school creates an effective learning environment for our students to involve more than just a curriculum. We really put effort in designing the physical space and purposefully designed furniture which is our own brand of Willa Woodland. Child sized furniture, such as appropriately scaled chairs, desks and shelves, allows children to move around comfortably and safely in their surrounding environment. Designed furniture and facilities play a crucial role in supporting children's physical, emotional and development. Lastly, when furniture and facilities are designed for children, they not only support learning but also produce a positive nurturing environment where children feel valued, capable and inspired by their creativity.
